

Thelma Riley, Treasurer

For the past twenty one years Thelma has and continues to enjoy her duties as Controller, Operations Manager for the Scrivens Family of Companies – a group of companies that is celebrating their 80th anniversary this year.

She also gives up her personal time from March to June each year to complete a few hundred Income Tax Returns for her friends and clients.

Thelma is Treasurer of the Board for the condominium where she resides, as well as volunteers on some committees including the Finance Committee for Habitat for Humanity, NCR.

Her son, Jonathan lives in Montreal, and is presently on the faculty at McGill University and is owner of his own Event Planning Company, “Ensemble, Ensemble” and he gives private voice lessons to his clients.

Thelma joined the Board of Epilepsy Ottawa-Carleton in September, 2010 and brings her accounting talents to her role as Treasurer.

Traveling the world is Thelma’s hobby and she has traveled many places and continues to marvel at the many cultures, architectures and landscapes. She is struck by the richness and the poverty experienced by people in this our world. May we reach out in some small way to help those in need.
